This happened last Wednesday. It's funny, but if you recall, we were told to have the fire department investigate the fortification leading to this grow. I spoke to a Glendale fire friend of mine – for his opinion - and he said there was “No way” any fire department would have handled this thing if they knew it lead to a marijuana grow. Because of all the complaints from the neighboring tenants and the BID, a (hope this is the right code) 319 investigation was initiated with Narco and they obtained a search warrant.

We knew it was going to be big and it looks like it was kept away from the media, too.

Art,

RE: Marijuana grow

Not sure if you saw this photo (or any others) but here's the marijuana place in the heart of our district that we mentioned at lunch several weeks ago.
